Dear Harold,

I realized after we spoke on the phone that I had left the Garrison book at home. I want to get this in the mail today, though. The excerpt that Sciambra would know about deals with an oil and gas man from Denver who came to see Garrison after news of investigation broke and tried to get him to drop it by offering him, indeed saying he could guarantee him, a Federal judgeship. Garrison said he declined and showed the guy the door. Sciambra was said to be present and reportedly noticed the guy was wearing "an Annapolis ring." If ~~MM~~ you and when it happened could ask Sciambra about this, I think he would be more forthcoming, even if, as I expect, you asked him on my behalf. His number is 504-282-7966. Hope you're feeling better when this arrives.

Yours,

George
